OpenBreweryDB and UselessFacts API for Group Project 1

brewTrek

- Allows a user to search for thousands of breweries by city.
- Directions to any brewery are easily available and linked to the webpage.
- Favorite breweries can be saved to be referred to later.
- Displays useless facts that will allow you to strike up engaging conversation at any brewery you visit.

As a person who enjoys social activities,

I want to view nearby breweries and some useless facts,

So I can plan an outing for the day.

When I enter the main page, I am presented with a fun-fact at the bottom of the page, an option to view my favorites, and an option to search for a city.

When I enter a city then I am presented with brewery names, address (with map links), and a button to add any single brewery as a favorite.

When I click on a brewery, then I am presented with brewery name, website, phone, address, link to google maps, and option to add as a favorite.

When I click the “brewTrek” logo or ‘back’ button, I am taken back home.

When I click on View Favorites, I see my favorited breweries and can click on the name to get detailed information again.
